homelife with the rouses

bill mcroberts, rotary foreign exchange student from bendigo, victoria, australia, arrived in kennewick on january 15, 1972 to begin his year at kennewick high school. bill's family includes a brother, alastair, 14, and three sisters, kirstie, 12, meryan, 11, and jenice, 9. his father owns a sheep ranch of 3000 acres. bill received a scholarship to attend the university at melbourne. he plans to take an actuarial course when he returns.

bill's had a number of new experiences since his arrival. here sixteen year olds drive cars; minimum age in australia is eighteen. he also noticed that more money is used here but this does not necessarily mean that more material goods are gained because of the higher cost of living. schools here have a wider range of subjects and are noticeably more carefree, more fun, and emphasize sports more - almost professionally by aussie standards. there are no exams here (with the exception of mr. deatherage's novel class) to compare to the three hour exams in australia. bill also noticed that our man in the moon is upside down.

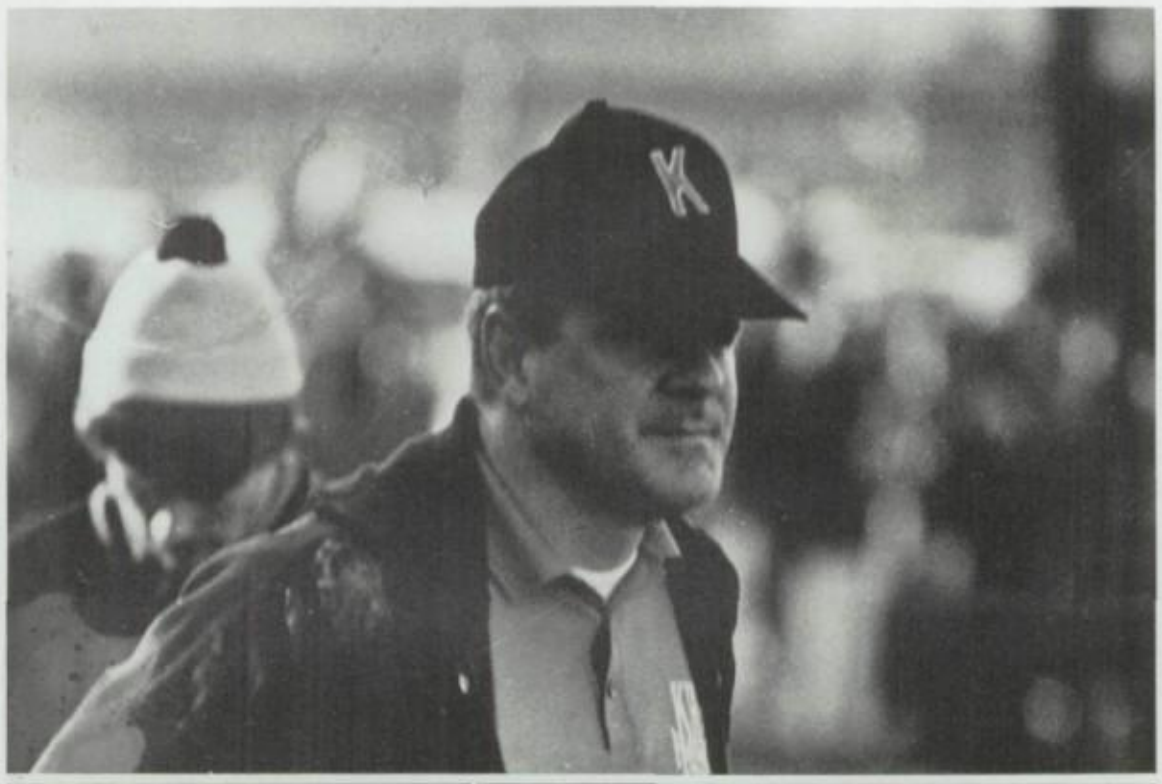
fight - the duck years



duck daugherty came to Kennewick in 1967 and with him came spirit. daugherty and his belief in school spirit as the inspiration for better performance in everything, but especially in sports, were unshakeable. with that spirit and a couple of years' experience, Kennewick footballers swept the conference AAA gridiron in 1969 with a 7-2 record and really put the HITTING LIONS on the map for the first time since 1949.

football wasn't the only world daugherty knew, though. physical conditioning was something daugherty believed in, whether for P.E. frosh and sophomores, track, everyday life, even for football. weight training and "big bertha" became a way of life around Kennewick.

if sports was the name of the game then sportsmanship was the rule. sportsmanship meant taking the lumps as well as the likin's on the field. daugherty stressed the give and take of the game, using his own Irish nature and stubborness to keep spirit up at all times.

but while daugherty played sports seriously, he didn't see it only as temporary victories of an evening or a season. many a young man found himself in college as a result of daugherty's efforts to show the men of Kennewick to the world.

for the rest of us we'll just remember him as the big guy with the bigger smile and the things he made us do while he did us a favor.

GOOD LUCK, DUCK!
